DontPay.info with a VPN, it is a virtual private network service. Using a virtual private network when accessing the internet is a popular method of concealing users' location and the IP address of the user's computer. It also provides a measure of anonymity, as a "vpn service" is an encrypted network between computer devices used for the purpose of transmitting and receiving data, such as Internet traffic. MUMMY - Get a list of all your VPN IP addresses for a slow Internet Connection or for browsing Faster. The VPN system has developed much with advanced technologies, but is still the main tool for providing security and privacy online. Its role is in the context of data protection and is a customer of the system, and not part of the infrastructure. Working with a VPN is on the internet, a data connection is built on the proper client-server protocol, and you can have more information about the server with a VPN: from the OS, to the amount of Internet traffic in the country to the network infrastructure and services offered by the organization. In the following articles we explain the basics of VPN technology. This way the reader understand the importance of this technology in the field of the Internet. Today, you use an Internet connection, via a standard modem, to connect to a server. This
